

Universal Booktalk Bingo Terms

These are examples of possible Booktalk Bingo terms that are not book-specific, so they can be used anytime.

I'm wearing same color as a book cover

I'm wearing same color as a librarian

Title has a noun

Title has an adjective

Title has a conjunction,

Title has "the"

Title has "a"

Title is only one word

Title is more than 1 word

Title is more than 2 words

Title is more than 3 words

Title is hard to read from a distance

Title is in a fun font

Title is all capitals

Title has a punctuation mark

Title has cursive

Barcode covers part of title

Cover is illustrated

Cover is a photograph

Only words on the cover

Realistic fiction

Science fiction

Graphic novel

Romance

Mystery

Nonfiction

Fantasy

Historical fiction

Horror

Novel in verse

Thriller

Action

Adventure

Dystopian

Magical realism

Cover has red

Cover has orange

Cover has yellow

Cover has green

Cover has blue

Cover has purple

Cover has pink

Cover has white

Cover has black

Cover has a person

Cover has an animal

Cover has trees or plants

You know someone with the same name as a character

You share an initial with character

Librarian says "um"

Librarian is wearing glasses

Librarian says book is their favorite

Librarian tells a good joke

Librarian tells a bad joke

Librarian compares book to another book

Librarian compares book to a movie

Librarian compares book to TV show

You want to read the book

Animal sidekick or pet

Inspired by true story

Friendship theme

Librarian says the book's setting

